BREAKING NEWS: Health Commissioner resigns

EU Health and Consumers Commissioner John Dalli has resigned with immediate effect, following an investigation by the antifraud office OLAF.

A Maltese entrepreneur is said to have sought to use his contacts with the Commissioner to offer a tobacco producer a chance to influence possible future legislation, a probe is understood to have found.

Maros Sefcovic, the Slovak Commissioner responsible for inter-institutional affairs will take over as interim Commissioner.

He is also one of the 8 vice-presidents of the Commission.
